Jesus
A STORY OF ENLIGHTENMENT

Deepak Chopra

The author of the New York Times bestseller Buddha has created a re-imagining of another of the world’s most important figures—Jesus.

Jesus is a fresh and inspirational re-imagining of a young man’s transformational journey from carpenter’s son to revolutionary leader—the man seen by many as the savior of the world.

Very little is known or recorded about Jesus in his formative years. In the Gospel stories, we witness Jesus’s birth and then see him as a young boy of 12 questioning the Rabbis in the Temple in Jerusalem. Following this he does not reappear until age 30, when he emerges as the potent and stirring rebel baptized by John at the River Jordan. From his unceremonious birth in Bethlehem to his ultimate betrayal in Jerusalem, Jesus is a riveting and soul-stirring account of the most remarkable story of all time.

Deepak Chopra, the founder of The Chopra Center, is the preeminent teacher of Eastern philosophy to the Western World. He has been a bestselling author for decades, his books have appeared on every bestseller list in America, and his writings have sold millions of copies. His New York Times bestsellers include Buddha and The Third Jesus.

Praise for Buddha:

“FOUR STARS—With its crackling dialogue, lush feasts, and bone-crunching battles, mind-body guru Chopra’s engaging novel has the over-the-top appeal of a TV extravaganza like Rome.”

America has a contradictory relationship with sex. Sex is everywhere—in advertisements, sports, magazines, and TV—yet studies show that about one third of all married couples in America are utterly sexless. New York Times bestselling author and host of The Rabbi Schmuley Show, Shmuley Boteach delivers a practical and much-needed guide to rediscovering the key missing element in our lives—eroticism. Boteach explores how we can use sex to achieve real intimacy in our relationships and how to make sex passionate again, rather than just going through the motions. Boteach shows us how to recreate the mystery of sex, uncover its erotic allure, and reclaim the passion missing from the bedroom and life in general. The Eros Effect will not only restore passion and intimacy to our bedrooms, it will give us the renewed energy and zeal that we have been craving in all aspects of our life.

A call to action for passion in our relationships and our lives

Rabbi Shmuley Boteach is host of the daily national radio program The Rabbi Shmuley Show on Oprah & Friends XM Satellite Radio and host of the award-winning national TV show Shalom in the Home on TLC. He is also the international best-selling author of 19 books, including the New York Times bestselling Kosher Sex. Rabbi Shmuley is a highly sought-after television and radio guest, having appeared on The Today Show, The View, The O’Reilley Factor, Good Morning America, and many others. Rabbi Shmuley and his wife Debbie have eight children.
The One Thing Holding You Back

UNLEASHING THE POWER OF EMOTIONAL CONNECTION

Raphael Cushnir

Proven techniques for accessing the power of your emotions to transform your life and achieve your goals and dreams

Raphael Cushnir reveals that detachment from our emotions is holding us back. To overcome our impediments we need to connect with our emotions, especially those we avoid, resist, or dismiss. It’s these emotions that possess the key to our dreams, and learning to connect with them is a rarely taught but important and easily mastered skill. Once we access and understand these emotions, our dreams can and will come true.

The One Thing Holding You Back provides real solutions that can be implemented immediately, without outside support. Delivering a step-by-step program in accessible language, this book offers bona fide examples of people who have put the process to work and transformed their lives.

There’s only one way to find out what’s keeping you from what you really want.

— RAPHAEL CUSHNIR, in O magazine
While Washington offers only the politics of blame and fear, Jim Wallis has traveled the country and found a nation hungry for a politics of solutions and hope. A revival is happening in this country and Wallis shows how Americans are reinserting themselves into the political process and reclaiming government as a force for good. He reminds us that religious faith has driven our watershed national reforms: the abolition of slavery and the civil rights movement among others. The Great Awakening helps us rediscover our moral center and provides the inspiration and concrete plan we need to change politics.

"There are many people of the cloth who are also in the world—from debt cancellation to the fight against AIDS to human rights, they are on the march. Jim Wallis isn’t just part of this movement—he’s out front carrying a bullhorn."

—Bono, lead singer of U2

Jim Wallis’s God’s Politics was a New York Times bestseller and electrified Americans disenchanted with how the Right had co-opted all talk about integrating religious values into our politics. A leading figure at the crossroads of religion and politics in America today, Wallis is the author of eight books and the founder of Sojourners, a nationwide network of progressive Christians. He lives in Washington, D.C.

The Soulmate Secret

MANIFEST THE LOVE OF YOUR LIFE WITH THE LAW OF ATTRACTION

Arielle Ford

Foreword by Marci Shimoff

Clear out the emotional baggage of the past so you can use the law of attraction to deliver your soulmate to your door

The woman who launched the careers of Deepak Chopra, Jack Canfield, and Neale Donald Walsch shows readers how to take control of their romantic destiny. Finding true love is possible for anyone at any age if you’re willing to prepare yourself, on all levels, to become a magnet for love. Ford knows this from experience. She used the techniques in this book to bring her soulmate into her life at age 44. They were engaged six weeks later.

Using a series of processes called “feelingizations”—feeling in every cell of your being the outcome you want to create—Ford teaches readers how to use the law of attraction to find their soulmate. This practical guide also includes prayers, techniques, projects, and rituals to help make room for true love to enter your life.

“The Soulmate Secret will inspire you and give you a glimpse that this can be a magical journey and you can truly attract, manifest, and find your soulmate.”

—DEEPAK CHOPRA, author of Buddha

Arielle Ford is the Director of Publicity for Spiritual Cinema Circle and Earth Cinema Circle (affiliates of GaiaM). Prior to January 2004, Arielle ran her own PR firm, The Ford Group, which she founded in 1987. She is best known for helping to launch the careers of Deepak Chopra; Jack Canfield and Mark Victor Hansen of the Chicken Soup for the Soul series; and Neale Donald Walsch. She has also handled publicity for Wayne Dyer, Debbie Ford, Gary Zukav, Marianne Williamson, Louise Hay, don Miguel Ruiz, and many other notable authors, eleven of whom became #1 on the New York Times bestseller
Forgive for Love
THE MISSING INGREDIENT FOR A HEALTHY AND LASTING RELATIONSHIP

Dr. Frederic Luskin

“ Forgiveness is the basis of all success in relationships. Dr. Luskin provides the necessary insight to not only forgive your partner but motivate you as well.”
—John Gray, author of Men are from Mars, Women are from Venus

Based on the latest scientific research, this groundbreaking book from the frontiers of psychology and medicine offers startling new insights about the power of forgiveness in relationships. Forgive for Love delivers a proven seven-step program for learning the powerful tools of forgiveness. Instead of allowing our grudges to turn into lifelong battles, Dr. Luskin shows how we can make peace with our partners and recover the core reasons we chose to be with them in the first place.

Dr. Frederic Luskin is the author of Forgive for Good and one of the world’s leading researchers and teachers of forgiveness. Dr. Luskin is the Director of the Stanford Forgiveness Projects, a series of research projects that investigate forgiveness methods. He holds an appointment at the Stanford Center on Conflict and Negotiation as a senior fellow and is an associate professor at the Institute of Transpersonal Psychology. He lives in Palo Alto, CA.

“Luskin has brilliantly combined science, psychology, and plain ol’ common sense to show us how to open our hearts and love again.”
—Rhonda Britten, author of Fearless Living

Signature in the Cell
DNA EVIDENCE FOR INTELLIGENT DESIGN

Stephen C. Meyer

The first major scientific argument for Intelligent Design by a leading scientist

Signature in the Cell is the first major statement by a scientist explaining intelligent design and revealing its explanatory power for the origin of life on earth. In this thoughtful and challenging book, Stephen Meyer summarizes and critiques current evolutionary theories and goes on to show that the evidence itself makes a strong case for intelligent design.

This book shows that the argument for intelligent design from DNA is not based on ignorance or a desire to “give up on science,” but instead upon just the opposite: our growing scientific knowledge of the inner workings of the cell and our knowledge of the cause-and-effect structure of the world. For this reason the argument for design can be formulated as a rigorous scientific argument. In fact, the argument for intelligent design from DNA is based on the same method of scientific reasoning that Charles Darwin himself used.

- February 12, 2009 is the 200th anniversary of Darwin’s birth and November 22, 2009 is the 150th anniversary of the publication of The Origin of Species

Stephen C. Meyer, Ph.D. is the director and Senior Fellow of the Center for Science and Culture at the Discovery Institute in Seattle. Meyer set off a firestorm of media and political attention when the Smithsonian Institution published his pro-Intelligent Design paper in 2005. Meyer has been featured on national television and radio programs such as the Jim Lehrer News Hour, CBS Sunday Morning, NBC Nightly News, ABC Nightly News, Good Morning America, Nightline, Paula Zahn Now, Topic A with Tina Brown, Weekend Live with Tony Snow, The Big Story with John Gibson, Fox TV News, and The Tavis Smiley Show. He has also been the subject of two front pages stories in the New York Times.
The Green Collar Economy
A REVOLUTIONARY PLAN TO END GLOBAL WARMING, BEAT POVERTY, AND UNITE AMERICA

Van Jones

The award-winning human rights activist and advisor to policy makers and presidential candidates delivers a 21st-century economic plan to rescue working class Americans

Renowned activist Van Jones gives voice to a different kind of environmentalism, one deeply rooted in the lives and struggles of ordinary people. First, Jones explains why the current “eco-elite” top-down approach to the environmental crisis of tree-hugging radicals and rich whole-foods shoppers won’t create the change necessary to solve the ecological crisis on a global scale.

Next, Jones lays out a plan for a national commitment to job training, employment, and entrepreneurial opportunities in the emerging green economy, through which we can slow global warming and lift up the nation’s struggling working class. Provocative and inspirational, The Green Collar Economy is not a dire warning but rather a positive, solution-oriented call to action.

Van Jones is the founder and president of Green For All. As an advocate for the toughest urban constituencies and causes, Jones has won many honors, including the 1998 Reebok International Human Rights Award, the international Ashoka Fellowship, selection as a World Economic Forum “Young Global Leader,” and the Rockefeller Foundation “Next Generation Leadership” Fellowship. Jones worked successfully with Congress to pass the Green Jobs Act of 2007. That path-breaking, historic legislation authorized $125 million in funding to train 35,000 people a year in “green-collar jobs.” A 1993 Yale Law graduate, Jones is also a husband and father.
God in the White House: A History

HOW FAITH SHAPED THE PRESIDENCY
FROM JOHN F. KENNEDY TO GEORGE W. BUSH

Randall Balmer

One of America’s top historians explores the role of faith in presidencies during the last half century

Beginning with JFK’s presidential campaign and ending with the George W. Bush White House, Randall Balmer explores the role religion plays in the personal and political lives of America’s presidents. Balmer shows how these change according to the times and what they say about the man sitting in the Oval Office.

By exploring how religion affected our presidents’ personal lives, policies, and campaigns, Balmer reveals that religion is one of the primary influences on our nation’s leaders. God in the White House: A History offers a new lens through which to see these extraordinary individuals and to understand our political landscape.

Balmer wisely counsels skepticism that candidates’ religious statements foretell moral governance.

—BOSTON GLOBE

An Altar in the World
A GEOGRAPHY OF FAITH

Barbara Brown Taylor

The critically acclaimed author of Leaving Church continues her spiritual journey by revealing how she learned to encounter the sacred everywhere in the world

With delicate, thought-provoking prose and a voice reminiscent of Anne Lamott and Elizabeth Gilbert, An Altar in the World will appeal to anyone seeking more meaning and spirituality in their everyday lives. In these pages Barbara Brown Taylor shares how she developed new skills for encountering God far beyond the walls of the church. From simple practices (walking, working, getting lost) to deep meditations (on prayer, giving blessings, and on having skin), each chapter reveals meaningful ways to find the sacred in the small things we do and see. Through her expert guidance, we learn to live with purpose, pay attention, slow down, and revere the world we live in.

• Leaving Church has sold more than 50,000 copies

Barbara Brown Taylor has been interviewed on CNN Live Today and Fresh Air and was featured in the Los Angeles Times, USA Today, Detroit Free Press, and Miami Herald. She is one of America’s most renowned preachers and was named one of the 12 most effective preachers in the English-speaking world in 1996 by Baylor University. Taylor teaches at Piedmont College and is adjunct professor of Christian spirituality at Columbia Theological Seminary. She lives in Habersham County, GA with her husband, Ed.

Bonhoeffer

Eric Metaxas

From the author of the bestselling Amazing Grace, a riveting biography of the author, resistance leader, and martyr who stood up to Hitler and inspired the world

In every crisis, there is a figure who provides the moral clarity so others may see more clearly. For the twentieth century and the terrifying rise of Nazism, that man is Dietrich Bonhoeffer. In April 1945, just three weeks before the end of the war, the Nazis brutally hanged this revolutionary German theologian for his role in the assassination plot to kill Adolf Hitler. Since then, Bonhoeffer’s writings and his significance have grown so that he remains one of the most fascinating and complex figures of the 20th century.

Eric Metaxas provides the first popular biography of Dietrich Bonhoeffer, whose statue stands besides nine other martyrs of the twentieth century on the face of Westminster Abbey. Read and quoted by such leaders as Nelson Mandela and Desmond Tutu, Bonhoeffer’s books have sold millions of copies. No one has had a greater impact on the modern church.

Praise for Eric Metaxas:

AN IRRESISTIBLE WRITER.

A Hell of Mercy

A MEDITATION ON DEPRESSION AND THE DARK NIGHT OF THE SOUL

Tim Farrington

“Farrington lays out his relationship to both religious suffering and clinical solutions with intellectual rigor and great candor. A Hell of Mercy is an important book.”

—Darcey Steinke, author of Suicide Blonde

In this poignant exploration of the dark night of the soul, acclaimed novelist Tim Farrington writes with heartrending honesty as he explores his lifelong struggle with depression and seeks to unravel the profound connection between depression and the spiritual path. Asking the difficult questions, such as when is depression a part of your identity and when it holds you back, A Hell of Mercy is an examination of the human condition for anyone who has ever faced depression or watched someone they love struggle.

— The Monk Downstairs was a New York Times Notable Book

Tim Farrington is the author of Lizzie’s War, The Monk Downstairs, and The Monk Upstairs, as well as the critically acclaimed novels The California Book of the Dead and Blues for Hannah. He lives in Virginia Beach, VA.

“Farrington is both a guide and a muse; his honesty invites introspection and hope.”

— Julia Cameron, author of The Artist’s Way

God’s Problem
HOW THE BIBLE FAILS TO ANSWER OUR MOST IMPORTANT QUESTION—WHY WE SUFFER

Bart Ehrman

“A serious inquiry . . . Ehrman pursues it with an energy and goodwill that invite further conversation with sympathetic and unsympathetic readers alike.”
—Stanley Fish in the New York Times

The author of the New York Times bestseller Misquoting Jesus discusses his personal anguish upon discovering the Bible’s contradictory explanations for suffering, and tells how this realization caused him to lose his faith altogether. Why does an all-knowing, benevolent God permit war, disease, natural disasters, abuse, pain, and death? If God is not responsible, who is? People often quote the Bible in times of questioning and despair to provide answers. But, surprisingly, the Bible does not have one answer but many, often contradictory answers. In God’s Problem, a top Bible scholar reveals the Bible’s central and often conflicting responses to suffering.

Contains so much earnest humility that he will find sympathetic readers even among believers. . . . Ehrman’s clarity is something to emulate.
—Newsweek

Bart D. Ehrman is the James A. Gray Professor of Religious Studies at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. A leading authority on the early Church and the life of Jesus, he has been featured in Time magazine and has appeared on NBC Dateline, The Daily Show with Jon Stewart, CNN, The History Channel, major NPR shows, and other top media outlets. The Lost Ark of the Covenant
SOLVING THE 2,500 YEAR OLD MYSTERY OF THE FABLED BIBLICAL ARK

Tudor Parfitt

Discover the hidden history and secret location of one of the world’s most sacred objects

This is the real-life account of professor and adventurer Tudor Parfitt’s effort to recover the revered artifact that contained the original Ten Commandments tablets. This relic, which is sacred to Judaism, Christianity, and Islam, mysteriously disappeared thousands of years ago with the destruction of the Temple in Jerusalem. Parfitt follows every lead in his quest, investigating ancient documents and codes and employing modern genetic evidence. He is shot at, ambushed, and arrested in Africa, and narrowly escapes being kidnapped in Yemen. As he travels the world, Parfitt is aided by mystics, holy men, charlatans, tribal elders, and scheming politicians. Through this vivid account we discover the unknown history of the lost Ark, and examine the claims of a tribe in southern Africa who say they know its final resting place.

Professor Tudor Parfitt life’s work has been tracking down the lost tribes of Israel in Africa and Asia. He is Professor of Jewish Studies at London’s prestigious School of Oriental and African Studies and Fellow of the Oxford Centre of Hebrew and Jewish Studies. In 2006 he was appointed Distinguished Visiting Fellow at Harvard University. He wrote and presented In Search of the Sons of Abraham for Channel Four, has written a number of documentaries for the BBC, and was the subject of an episode of CBS’s 60 Minutes. He divides his time between London and the Templar region of the South Aveyron.
The Final Days of Jesus
THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL EVIDENCE

Shimon Gibson

Based on decades of excavating the most important sites in Israel, a world renowned archaeologist reveals what really happened during the final days of Jesus’s life

Ever since the Gospels were written there have been questions about the momentous events that occurred during the final days of Jesus in Jerusalem, notably his trial before Pontius Pilate, and his subsequent execution by crucifixion. Through the ages theologians and historians have grappled with this important subject, but few have had direct access to the ancient buried city of Jerusalem, let alone remains dating specifically from the time of Jesus. The Final Days of Jesus is the first book of its kind to examine this important time using the full array of archaeological finds. It contains details about previously unknown connections to Jesus, including:

- The remains of a 1st-century house where Jesus was imprisoned before being taken to Pilate
- The place of the trial of Jesus
- The surprising location of the rock where Jesus is said to have been crucified
- The Tomb of the Shroud near the foot of Mount Zion holds the remains of a mummified man dating to the time of Jesus

Why Good People Do Bad Things

HOW TO STOP BEING YOUR OWN WORST ENEMY

Debbie Ford

“Debbie Ford guides the reader on an essential journey from loss and despair to emotional wholeness and spiritual transformation.”

—Deepak Chopra

The New York Times bestselling author and radio personality reveals the two contradictory forces that exist within each of us: the force that compels us to give and receive love, be contributing members of our community, and succeed in our endeavors; and the force that holds us back, sabotages our best efforts, and repeatedly steers us in a direction that is inconsistent with our deepest goals and values. By revealing the signposts that lead to disaster, Debbie Ford helps us recognize the devastation of denying our own and other people’s darker characteristics and helps us to heal this split. Through honesty and Ford’s candor, we learn the traps of self-deception and self-sabotage and gain the tools to be the person we always intended to be.

• Debbie Ford has sold more than 1.5 million books

In this book, Debbie Ford brilliantly exposes the greatest human tragedy: the loss of the authentic self by ineffective parenting and the resulting split that ravages the life of the self and its consequences for others. I heartily recommend this book to everyone.

Red, White, and Muslim
MY STORY OF BELIEF
Asma Gull Hasan

A paradigm-shifting glimpse into the life of a young American Muslim woman who argues that you do not have to give up your Islamic faith in order to be a strong, independent American woman

For Asma Gull Hasan, a young American-born Muslim, woman journalist, and lawyer, being a Muslim is not merely a matter of birth, but a matter of choice and faith. In Red, White, and Muslim Hasan argues that Islam is not the misogynistic, oppressive belief system of common perception, but a faith tradition that has as many varied interpretations as Christianity. She articulates a vision of Islam that is ethnically diverse, tolerant of others, and supportive of the rights of women.

Hasan’s personal relationship with her religion inspires a new understanding and appreciation of a frequently misinterpreted tradition. She successfully articulates a vision of one of the world’s greatest religions that readers will find engaging and challenging as well as enlightening.

Asma Gull Hasan was born in Chicago to Pakistani immigrant parents and grew up in Colorado. As a Glamour blogger, a contributor to the New York Times, San Francisco Chronicle, and Denver Post and the author of the acclaimed American Muslims and Why I Am a Muslim, she has become recognized as an articulate and persuasive Islamic American voice. She is interviewed on national cable news about once a month, including Fox News and MSNBC. She frequently is called upon to speak about being an American Muslim woman, growing up Muslim in America, and Islam.

“Hasan will rock your stereotypes about Islam in this refreshing book.”
— FAREED ZAKARIA, author of The Post-American World
The Promise
GOD’S PURPOSE AND PLAN FOR WHEN LIFE HURTS
Jonathan Morris

Fox News Channel’s globetrotting ethics analyst and Catholic priest explores the central questions people have when they confront bad news: Why me? Why does God allow us to suffer?

Father Jonathan Morris peels back the layers of questions that arise when someone asks the question “why me?” Father Jonathan not only writes about how to understand and live with suffering, he also poses the toughest question to God: why do we suffer under a benevolent God? Next he delves into how to be healed from the spiritual, emotional, and even physical scars left behind by suffering. He offers six principles for living a free life, or a life free of the fear that God is not there for us. He concludes with a captivating dialogue between a priest and a parent whose daughter is abused and then murdered, making real the deepest issues we all wrestle with. The Promise offers something for every reader—a how-to and profound meditation on reality in one book.

Father Jonathan Morris, LC was ordained a Roman Catholic priest on December 24, 2002 in Rome, Italy. He has served as a religious news analyst and commentator for several domestic and international channels including CNN, Sky News, and the BBC. He also served as a theological advisor to Mel Gibson during the making of The Passion of the Christ. He is a regular news contributor for the Fox News Channel, where he offers ethical and moral commentary to regular news items. Father Jonathan resides in Rome.

“A persuasive invitation to a fuller life.”

A People’s History of Christianity
THE OTHER SIDE OF THE STORY

Diana Butler Bass

A new history reveals the grassroots movements in Christianity that preserved Jesus’s message of social justice for 2,000 years and their impact on the church today

In the same spirit as Howard Zinn’s groundbreaking work The People’s History of the United States, Diana Butler Bass reveals the under-reported and recorded movements, personalities, and spiritual practices that continue to inform and ignite contemporary Christian activism and social justice reforms in the name of Jesus. The book will offer up a much-needed “other side of the story” for progressive Christians, drawing from examples of alternative practices in every period of Christian history, including:

- Care for the environment and celebrating God in nature
- Defining compassion, hospitality, and social justice as the primary function of the church
- Pacifism as the dominant Christian response to war
- Highlighting the female attributes of God
- Celebrating human sexuality as a gift from God

This is the book that progressives and liberals have been waiting for—a deeply researched history of Christianity that sheds new light on the underreported personalities and movements of the faith.

Dianna Butler Bass is the author of six books on American Protestantism, including Christianity for the Rest of Us, Strength for the Journey, and The Practicing Congregation. She earned her Ph.D. in Church History from Duke University and has served on the faculty at the University of California at Santa Barbara, Rhodes College, and Virginia Theological Seminary. From 1995–2000 she wrote a weekly column on American Religion for the New York Times syndicate and is a popular speaker at retreats and workshops across the country. She lives in Alexandria, VA.
A NEW VOICE FOR CHRISTIANITY

Saving Jesus from the Church

How to Stop Worshipping Christ and Start Following Jesus

Robin Meyers

A powerful voice from the pulpit argues against the churches’ obsession with “right belief” and restores the true mission of the faith — following Jesus

Robin Meyers believes a new Reformation is required in which the obsession with personal salvation is abandoned and the purpose of religion is re-imagined. He reminds us that the question for our time is not, what do I need to believe about Jesus to be saved, but what do I need to do now that I’ve heard the Sermon on the Mount?

This is not a call to the church to move to the far Left or to try something brand new. Rather, it is the recovery of something very old. Saving Jesus from the Church shows us what it means to be a Christian and how to follow Jesus’s teachings today, recasting core Christian concepts in modern, straightforward language, with chapter titles such as:

- Jesus as Teacher, not Savior
- Christianity as Compassion, not Condemnation
- Prosperity as Dangerous, not Divine
- Discipleship as Obedience, not Control
- Religion as Relationship, not Righteousness

For over 20 years, Robin Meyers has been pastor of Mayflower Congregational Church, an “unapologetically Christian, unapologetically liberal” church in one of the most conservative states in the country. He is a professor in the Philosophy Department at Oklahoma City University, a syndicated columnist, and award-winning commentator for National Public Radio. Meyers has appeared on Dateline NBC, ABC World News Tonight, and the NewsHour with Jim Lehrer. Meyers writes regularly for The Christian Century and is the author of four books. He and his wife, Shawn, have three children. They live in Oklahoma City.
SuperSense
WHY WE BELIEVE IN THE UNBELIEVABLE

Bruce Hood

In the vein of Blink, a world-famous scientist explores why we are hard-wired with a “super sense” that shapes our intuitions and superstitions and is essential to how we understand the world.

A recent Gallup poll found that 93% of Americans believe in some form of supernatural phenomena, such as telepathy, déjà vu, ghosts, and past lives. Do you cross your fingers, knock on wood, avoid walking under ladders, or step around black cats?

Innate belief in things beyond what’s rational or natural are common to humans. In fact, according to award-winning cognitive scientist Bruce Hood, this “super sense” is something we’re born with and essential to the way we learn to understand the world. We are inclined from the start to think that there are unseen patterns, forces and essences inhabiting the world. Therefore it is unlikely that any effort to get rid of supernatural beliefs, or the superstitious behaviors that accompany them, will be successful. We couldn’t live without them! Moreover, these beliefs are essential in binding us together as a society. This way of thinking is unavoidable and it may be part of human nature to see ourselves connected to each other at this deeper level.

Bruce M. Hood is the Chair of the Cognitive Development Center in the Experimental Psychology Department at the University of Bristol. He was a research fellow at Cambridge, and has been a visiting professor at MIT and at Harvard. He has received many awards for his work in child development and cognitive neuroscience.

“...This book is about the science behind beliefs, not whether beliefs are true or not. When you understand the supersense you will better understand your own beliefs, as well as why so many of us hold supernatural beliefs.”

It’s Not About the Money
UNLOCK YOUR MONEY TYPE TO ACHIEVE SPIRITUAL AND FINANCIAL ABUNDANCE

Brent Kessel

“Applying Eastern wisdom to a very Western concern, Kessel shows how being mindful of our relationship to money can free one of anxiety and even turn money into a tool for compassion.”
—Thich Nhat Hanh, author of The Art of Power

Brent Kessel combines the latest financial thinking with ancient wisdom to shed light on the relationship between people and their cash, and offers the reader a program for attaining financial and emotional security. Drawing on interviews with spiritual leaders and financial gurus, Kessel teaches you how to grow more conscious of your spending, saving, investing, and giving, and shows you how to become more financially sound and spiritually at peace.

It’s Not About the Money includes:

• Quizzes for discovering your money type
• Exercises and meditations for freeing yourself from old patterns regarding money
• Customized worksheets and resources providing concrete programs for improving your financial security

“This is a financial-planning guide unlike any other on the market, thanks mostly to Kessel’s skillful combination of yoga and wealth-management expertise.”

—BOOKLIST

Worth magazine named Brent Kessel one of the top 250 financial advisors in the U.S. and his company, Abacus Wealth Partners, which has close to a billion dollars in client assets under management, was named one of the “top 250 wealth management firms in the U.S.” by Bloomberg Wealth Manager. Dubbed a “Financial Soul Searcher” by Research magazine, Kessel has been featured in Newsweek as well as Yoga Journal. Kessel lives in Topanga, CA.
Mom’s Little Angel
STORIES OF THE SPECIAL BOND BETWEEN MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Gregory Lang

A mother is a daughter’s constant companion, teacher, role-model, and best friend. Throughout our lives, mothers are always there—to provide a shoulder to cry on, chicken soup when we’re sick, or a ride to the mall. In this tribute to mothers, and the special role they play in a growing girl’s life, bestselling inspirational author Gregory Lang collects real-life stories of mother and daughters to explore this special relationship.

With his trademark storytelling and inspirational vignettes, Lang has created a perfect gift for Mother’s Day or birthdays—a book that inspires mothers to empower their daughters to become strong, independent women, and reminds daughters that their mothers are an ever-present source of strength, support, and wisdom.

• Why a Daughter Needs a Dad has sold more than a million copies and Why a Daughter Needs a Mom has sold more than 500,000 copies

Gregory E. Lang is the author of the New York Times and USA Today bestseller Why a Daughter Needs a Dad, which has sold more than 750,000 copies, Daddy’s Little Girl, Why a Daughter Needs a Mom, and Why a Son Needs a Mom. Lang lives in Atlanta with his wife and two daughters.
Flory
A MIRACULOUS STORY OF SURVIVAL

Flory Van Beek

The inspiring story of a young Jewish girl caught in Nazi-occupied Holland

As the Nazi occupation of Holland grew from threat to reality, Flory Van Beek, a teenage girl, tried to escape on the infamous SS Bolivar with Felix, the man who would later become her husband. This ill-fated ship struck a series of mines, ultimately sinking along with the hopes of nearly all its passengers. Miraculously, both Flory and Felix survived, but they were to spend many years in hiding and on the run, before they finally found freedom. Their story vividly captures the terror of the Holocaust, the courage of the people who risked their lives to protect their countrymen, and the faith of those who, against all odds, managed to survive.

I have always believed in survivor’s testimonies: they are unique. It is impossible to understand the Holocaust and its meaning without becoming acquainted with their experiences which they alone can tell with true authority.

— ELIE WIESEL

Flory A. Van Beek came to America in 1948 with a suitcase full of papers and photographs buried during the Holocaust. This material is now in the United States Holocaust Museum in Washington, D.C. Van Beek lives in Newport Beach, CA.

“A powerful memoir of persecution, survival, and a young couple’s devotion.”

— RICHARD PAUL EVANS, author of The Gift
I Love You, Miss Huddleston
AND OTHER INAPPROPRIATE LONGINGS OF MY INDIANA CHILDHOOD

Philip Gulley

The quintessential American storyteller captures the nostalgia of small town life and recounts his coming-of-age in Danville, Indiana (Pop. 4,000)

Evoking a time when boyhood was less sheltered and walking on the wild side was a rite of passage, I Love You, Miss Huddleston tells the unforgettable journey of Philip Gulley’s awkward adolescence, including his unwavering crush on his sixth grade teacher Miss Huddleston, which led to his fruitless attempts to get held back so he wouldn’t have to move across town to the junior high. Gulley tells the raucous stories of his band of buddies, and the trouble they could get into with such everyday items as a bushel of tomatoes, a few cases of bug spray, and a misplaced mannequin. Humorous, poignant, and nostalgic, this book transports you back to when the biggest worry on your mind was wondering when the ice cream truck would come ringing down the street.

- There are more than 1.5 million Philip Gulley books in print

“Philip Gulley is a Quaker pastor from Indiana with a charming sense of small-town life—and a shrewd sense of life in general . . . . A self-deprecating narrator . . . he knows how to exaggerate in a witty way.”
-WALL STREET JOURNAL

Philip Gulley is the bestselling author of numerous titles including Front Porch Tales, the acclaimed Harmony series, and If Grace Is True and If God Is Love, co-authored with James Mulholland. He and his wife, Joan, live in Indiana with their sons, Spencer and Sam.

In a highly competitive age, resisting the pressure to hyper-parent is not easy. We all fear being left behind or shortchanging our kids. Yet research shows that the best way to raise the next generation is to relax, trust our instincts, and enjoy the ride.

To map out the future of childhood, Carl Honoré sifts through the latest scientific research, interviews experts from around the world, and visits classrooms, playgrounds, a Harry Potter convention, toy companies, television studios, a video gaming conference, a child beauty pageant, and a plastic surgery clinic. Blending top reportage, intellectual inquiry, anecdotes, and offbeat humor, Under Pressure will appeal to anyone who is interested in families, parenting, and the future of childhood.

Honoré presents a list of ways in which parents all over the developed world have long been robbing their children of their childhoods by inserting themselves into every facet of their children’s lives. . . . This is an excellent choice.

—LIBRARY JOURNAL

Carl Honoré worked with street children in Brazil. This inspired him to take up journalism. Since 1991, he has written from all over Europe, and South America, spending three years in Buenos Aires along the way. His work has appeared in publications on both sides of the Atlantic, including the Economist, Observer, American Way, National Post, Globe and Mail, Houston Chronicle and Miami Herald. His first book In Praise of Slowness was an international bestseller.

ANCIENT SECRETS FOR THE CREATIVE & CONSTANTLY CONNECTED

Soren Gordhamer

User-friendly guidance for the millions of people attempting to strike the right life balance with their computers, cell phones, Blackberrys and ipods

Reuters recently reported that Americans are willing to go longer without friends and sex than the Internet. Seduced by the allure of technology, we have traded face-to-face contact for the rush of online communication, which appears to address but never truly fulfills our profound need for human connection. Utilizing such technologies becomes a compulsive action, rather than a creative process, and the resultant stress impedes the very multitasking and efficiency that the technology was meant to inspire.

In Wisdom 2.0, Soren Gordhamer, author of the meditation book for teens Just Say Om!, offers sound guidance to the millions of people attempting to find the right balance with computers and cell phones. Fun, witty and in sync with contemporary life, Wisdom 2.0 provides effective, time-tested tools and approaches for reducing stress in a technology-saturated universe—and for nurturing creativity, online and off.

Soren Gordhamer is the author of the meditation book for teens Just Say Om! He has taught stress reduction programs at Google and in numerous other settings, and is the founder of the Lineage Project, a non-profit organization that has taught meditation and yoga-based stress reduction programs to incarcerated teens in New York City for the last seven years. He is also co-founder and CEO of Zooleo, a Web 2.0 Internet company. Gordhamer has been featured in GQ magazine and Newsweek.com.
